Urban Local Body Polls

Revised MCC voters list ready

Mysuru, June 11 (DM&BCT)- Even as the Assembly elections have concluded and a new government is in place, Karnataka is bracing up for yet another election in September and this time for the local bodies. As the State is at present being governed by JD(S)-Congress combine, it will be interesting to note how both parties will contest the local body elections and to what extent they will do go to grab power or make adjustments.

Elections for the 116 local bodies, including the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and a couple of other City Corporations are slated for September and the Election Commission (EC) is likely to announce poll schedule in August. The MCC, at present is being governed by JD(S)-BJP combine and its term will end on Sept. 5.

NEW VOTERS LIST

Preparing itself months ahead for the election, the MCC has readied and finalised a new ward-wise voters list (as per the new delimitation exercise) and has sent it to the Deputy Commissioner for approval this morning. The DC is expected to give his green signal by today evening and following his approval, a notification will be issued.

Once notified, the revised voters list will be published and objections will be invited from public. Later, after the process is complete, the list will be sent to the Election Commission.

Along with the MCC, in Mysuru elections will be held for T. Narasipur, Periyapatna and H.D. Kote Town Municipal Councils (TMC). All the three TMCs have 23 wards each. The EC had directed the District Administration to prepare the electoral rolls by June 11 (today) and invite objections.

The EC will announce the electoral rolls by June 27 following which the number of staff to be deputed for election duty will be decided. The EC has also directed the District Administration to keep sufficient number of EVMs ready.

Diseases, drugs, doctors Medi-colleges in a mess

India is touted as the world's pharmacy, considering the production of allopathic drugs in highest levels both in their variety and monetary value. The country also has the distinction of being home to the world's supply of vaccines. Call it a paradox or whatever else, the land has the highest number of victims of many diseases, notably tuberculosis, cancer and malaria, apart from being described as the world's diabetic capital. The factors underlying these contrasting features of India's image on health-illhealth combo count are many, including (a) Ignorance about disease-causing vectors, (b) Masses living in insanitary environments, (c) High cost of medicines, (d) Unaffordable tariffs for medical attention in well-equipped hospitals, (e) Large presence of medical practitioners poor in their diagnostic skills, (f) Low ratio of population to medical practitioners in specialised branches of medicine, (g) Unchecked sale and consumption of adulterated food, particularly by economically weaker sections of society, (h) Insufficient family income to provide even the minimum budget for seeking medical treatment and so on, not to forget unabated quackery patronised by the captive seekers of remedies for afflictions.

A major part of the curriculum of the plethora of courses in India's Universities is said to be unchanged for several decades. If that observation holds good for Medical Science Universities and Colleges also, then the drugs-diseases-doctors connect is well-nigh impossible to visualise for its consequences of rendering the land's human resources burdensome costing the country humongously. As far as the scenario concerning the other systems of healthcare, such as Ayurveda, Unani and Homoeopathy, the cause-effect relation is beyond words.

Medical education for imparting the skills of diagnosing diseases as well as their causes and subsequently deciding on the appropriate line of treatment either by prescribing medication or advising surgical procedures has currently reached a point that a person doesn't qualify to be recognised as a competent medical professional until he or she earns a post-graduate degree. The hassles as well as the cost of pursuing post-graduate education are too familiar to the literati to be gone into in detail in this column. In this backdrop, the agencies monitoring the functioning medical colleges and also allopathic medical practitioners in the country, namely Medical Council of India and its counterparts in the States are keeping a hawk's eye on the vital ingredients of the sector namely (a) infrastructure, (b) faculty, adequate in competence and number, (c) services offered in the institutions.

News such as published the other day in a widely read daily, namely "Karnataka loses 2,410 UG seats in Medical Colleges don't make anyone in society feel satisfied because of the reasons quoted for the happening Medical Colleges planning to move the Supreme Court against the action of MCI doesn't augur well for either party. The matter calls for out-of-court settlement along with concerted action to address the imbroglio.

The humble pakoda has become the leitmotif of political squabbles today. Speaking at an event organised by the Maharashtra Congress unit on Monday, former Finance Minister P. Chidambaram mocked the Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojna under which loans of up to Rs. 10,00,000 are provided to small or micro enterprises. "The average amount of disbursed Mudra loan is Rs. 43,000 per person. No major investment can be done with such low amount, except one wants to run a pakoda stall," Chidambaram said in an apparent reference to an earlier comment by the Prime Minister that a person earning Rs. 200 a day by selling pakodas is also employed. — In Business Standard.

Man stages own death after wife hires hitman

Houston: A boxing coach in Houston staged his own death after coming to know that his wife had hired a hit man to kill him.

Ramon Sosa, 50, began working with the FBI and Houston detectives to prove that Maria "Lulu" Sosa, 43, attempted to have him killed. She unknowingly exposed her intentions by attempting to hire a hitman, who, coincidentally, turned out to be a friend and former boxing student of Ramon's.

In order to prove without the shadow of a doubt that his wife had actually paid someone to have him killed, Sosa had to make himself dead, using makeup, and lying in a shallow grave in the desert with what appears to be a gunshot to his right temple and fake blood dripping on his face and naked torso. He then had to lay low until the Police caught his wife, who apparently laughed when she saw the photo of her dead husband.

Small pegs in nostrils to make it pointier

Taiwan: Women in East Asia are inserting pegs into their nostrils to make it 'pointier' and in their minds... 'prettier'. The trend apparently started in South Korea about two years ago and has now spread to Japan, mainland China and Taiwan, where women with a pointier European nose are considered more attractive.

The Nose Lifter set consists of two curved silicone pegs, measuring two to three centimeters long, and a hook for adjusting. The pegs are inserted into the nostril and then adjusted to a 45-degree angle. The result is an instant nose job without invasive and expensive surgery.

Face traffic chaos and curse ?!

Sir,

I was a bit hesitant to write on this issue simply because numerous letters have been written on it but the tragedy is that the situation in Mysuru is going from bad to worse. However, Vijay Hemmige's letter in SOM dated May 28 prompted me to add my bit.

His suggestion to revamp the Traffic Advisory Committee to counsel and educate the masses is appropriate. The important question is what role the civil society can play in the chaos which is developing under own eyes — simply watch the situation or indulge in taking some concrete steps.

We need to sit up and feel concerned about what is happening around us. The density of automobiles in Mysuru is developing at alarming rate and therefore some urgent measures need to be taken. Every day hundreds of new drivers are added on the road. Enforcement of rules is certainly the domain of Traffic Police but we must realise that we cannot put the entire blame on the shoulders of Police, for it is the people at large who pay the price for chaos and accidents on the road.

In this country there is another problem: when cops do their duty often they are confronted with 'don't you know who I am'?

The issue is what role the civil society can play in minimising the traffic problems that are emerging. In my opinion apart from playing watch dog role, giving talks in schools about safety norms etc., it is important to realise that ethics besides formal rules play an important role in maintaining order on the roads.

I will give two examples. One is the craze of overtaking and that too in city roads most of which are single lanes. The craze is so overpowering that often even autos attempt to overtake the four-wheelers and succeed with a snarl on the face of the drivers. Second when you are on public spaces yielding is polite, and is expression of a gentle behaviour. Here yielding even an inch of space is considered a sign of weakness — witness what is happening on weekends in central city.

Therefore, I consider that Driving Schools and elders at home should inculcate the importance of ethics to the youngsters while they are on road. Having said that I realise what we see on road in modern India is a reflection of what goes on in the society at large — might is right. If that be the case, where we go from here? Face chaos and curse.

Illegal electric fence: Father, son electrocuted

Land owner throws bodies into river, arrested

Maada

Praveen

H.D. Kote, June 11 (Manju& KS)- A father and his son, who were returning after collecting honey from the beehives on trees at Kusegowdana Hundi in H.D. Kote were electrocuted after coming in contact with an electrical fence on Friday.

The land owner had drawn power illegally for the fence to protect his crops from wild animals and the farmer had thrown the bodies into the river to hide the incident.

The deceased father and son have been identified as Maada (45) and his son Praveen (19), residents of Aanagatti Tribal Hamlet in H.D. Kote taluk. The farmer, who had allegedly drawn power to his fence illegally, has been identified as Marigowda.

Marigowda, who had grown Tapioca in his field, had erected a fence to prevent wild boars and other animals from straying into the field besides drawing power to the fence illegally.

Maada, Praveen and one Mariyappa after collecting honey were returning to their hamlet. As they were crossing the field, Maada and Praveen came in contact with the electric fence and died on the spot. Mariyappa, who saw the incident, ran to the hamlet, but informed the elders on Saturday.

Together, they went to the field of Marigowda to retrieve the bodies which were stuck to the fence, but were shocked as they could not find the bodies and even Marigowda told them that no such incident had taken place at his field and sent the hamlet elders away, it is learnt.

Yesterday morning, some villagers, who saw a huge sack floating in Kabini River near Tumbasoge village, pulled the sack to the banks and on opening it, they found the bodies of Maada and Praveen and immediately informed the Police.

H.D. Kote Police, who rushed to the spot, conducted mahazar and shifted the bodied to H.D. Kote General Hospital for post-mortem besides registering a case. The Police, who had examined the body, suspected that both of them may have been electrocuted, which had resulted in their deaths.

Meanwhile, the Police, who took Marigowda into custody, quizzed him, during which Marigowda is said to have confessed of throwing the bodies into the river fearing Police action following which the Police arrested him.

Social Welfare Officers Chandrappa and Ramesh, visited the hamlet of the deceased, consoled the family and provided financial help on behalf of the government.

H.D. Kote Circle Inspector Harish, Sub-Inspector Ashok and staff, who visited the spot, have registered a case and are investigating.

Former Lokayukta urges State Govt. to set up separate Varsity for Yakshagana

Former Lokayukta Justice Santhosh Hegde and scholar G.S. Bhatta seen among the audience at 'Sri Krishna Katha Maruthi Prathapa' Yakshagana programme organised by Shivamogga- based Natyashri Yakshagana Troupe at Kalamandira yesterday.

Mysuru, June 11 (SBD&DM)- Calling upon the people to imbibe human values in life, former Lokayukta Justice Santhosh Hegde has said that dissatisfaction will lead to greed, which ultimately bulldozes honesty.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'Sri Krishna Katha Maruthi Prathapa' Yakshagana programme organised by Shivamogga-based Natyashri Yakshagana Troupe in association with several other organisations at Kalamandira here yesterday.

Stressing that human values will ensure that the society remains clean, Justice Hegde said that he came to know about the shortcomings and loopholes in the society only after he became the Lokayukta.

Sharing his experiences as Lokayukta, he said that the Lokayukta Police had registered over 750 cases against the then CM, Ministers, MLAs, officials and other political leaders in five years.

Observing that we are in a world where richness and power is being worshipped, Justice Hegde regretted that honest persons seem to have no value in this world, which is taken over by materialism.

Stating that the country has been witness to mega scams involving thousands of crores of rupees, he said that it was very much disgusting to note that every such scam was almost equivalent to the volume of the State's budget.

Regretting erosion of humanity, Justice Hegde, citing the example of accident victim Harish, whose body was severed into two halves in a road mishap a couple of years ago and people were busy clicking his pictures on their cell phones, wondered where all the humanity in human beings had gone.

Urging the Government to set up a separate University for Yakshagana in the State to conduct research on the traditional theatre art form, he demanded the State Government to declare Yakshagana as Karnataka's art.

Noting that many people are working hard to make the art form more popular and they needed financial support, Hegde urged the Kannada and Culture Department to provide financial aid to the artistes so as to enable them to take up promotion of the art.

Karnataka Yakshagana Academy Chairman M.A. Hegde Dantkal, in his address, observed that people's disinterest towards art and culture had led to the erosion of cultural values in the society.

Noting that art and literature has the strength to influence the inner mind of humans, he emphasised on the need to ensure that young minds are influenced by art and literature.

Alleging that there were attempts to shift the Academy's headquarters to Mangaluru, he bemoaned that such moves will only limit Yakshagana and other such forms of art to a particular region. Asserting that the Academy should remain in Bengaluru, Hegde Dantkal called for more measures to popularise Yakshagana.

Art patron from Chamarajanagar G.M. Hegde, Programme organiser Vidwan Dattamurthy Bhat and others were present.

Rain continues to batter Kodagu

Trees crash on DC's bungalow at Madikeri; pilgrims advised to avoid Bhagamandala and Talacauvery

The Deputy Commissioner's bungalow in Madikeri that was damaged as trees fell yesterday.

Madikeri, Mandya, June 11 (PS, Nagaiah&BCT)- Heavy to very heavy rain is lashing across Kodagu since the last 48 hours. The Triveni Sangama at Bhagamandala is submerged and the heavy water flow has raised the hopes of a vigorous monsoon that will result in increase in the storage levels of reservoirs in Cauvery Basin — Harangi, Hemavathy and Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS).

While the rain has brought untold miseries to the people of Kodagu with tree falls, snapping of telephone and electricity lines, it has brought cheer to the parched regions of Mysuru, Mandya and Bengaluru that depend on Cauvery water for survival.

The Deputy Commissioner's bungalow in Madikeri was damaged by tree falls yesterday. While one tree fell on a portion of DC P.I. Sreevidya's house damaging the ceiling and some of the rooms, another tree destroyed the security guard's section of the DC's house.

In all, four trees came crashing in the compound of DC's house at Sudarshan Circle. Fire brigade and Police rushed to the spot and cleared the branches. Sreevidya said the roof of the bungalow is being repaired to stop leakages and there are no extensive damages to the bungalow. Among the places that received the highest rainfall are Bhagamandala, Talacauvery, Ayyangeri, Madikeri, Murnad, Napoklu, Ponnampet, Siddapur, Srimangala and Balele.

The District Administration has advised pilgrims to avoid going to Talacauvery and Bhagamandala in view of heavy rain. While Triveni Sangama is submerged, the road leading to Bhagamandala from Virajpet and Madikeri have been blocked at many places by overflowing River Cauvery and other small rivulets.

Holiday for schools and colleges

As a precaution, the District Administration has declared a holiday today for schools and colleges. Officials told Star of Mysore that they were bracing up for possible landslides which are common in the district during monsoon.

As against a normal rainfall of 245.50 mm from January to May, the total rainfall in the district during the same period this year was 423.68 mm whereas in 2017, the district had received 305.04 mm of rain from January to May. Madikeri taluk has received 614.74 mm of rainfall since January to June 9 as against 344.29 mm during the corresponding period last year.

The Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre has predicted more rain in Kodagu in the next two or three days. In anticipation of the rains, the district administration conducted review meetings of its rain preparedness to meet any eventuality. Taluk-wise rescue teams have been formed and separate control rooms with the main control room in Madikeri have been established to monitor the rain damage.

The DC has directed the deployment of expert swimmers, motorised boats for evacuation of people in low-lying areas along the river banks in case of an emergency, and establishment of relief centres.

KRS water level rises

Following incessant rain in Kodagu and stage-by-stage release of Cauvery water from the Harangi Dam in Somwarpet Taluk of Kodagu, water level in KRS dam of Mandya district has been rising steadily. At present, there is 79.50 ft water, up by over 13 feet when compared to the statistics in the first and second week of May.

While it may take some time for KRS to reach its full capacity of 124.80 ft (depending on the inflow from the catchment areas of North and South Kodagu), the water level as on Sunday evening stood at 78.50 ft with an inflow of 4,470 cusecs. Last year, during the same period, the water level stood at 67.63 ft.

Waterfalls in full splendour

The Abbe Falls in Madikeri, Irupu Falls at Irupu village in South Kodagu, the Chelavara Falls and Mallalli Falls in Somwarpet are in full splendour with water gushing down from the hilly regions. Along with the main waterfalls, there are several other waterfalls on the Bhagamandala-Karike Road, Madikeri-Mundroot Road, and Madikeri-Mangaluru Road which are also flowing in full spate.

While hundreds of tourists are visiting the waterfalls, the District Administration has warned tourists not to venture into the water as they will be pulled downstream due to strong water currents.

KODAGU RAIN DATA – 11.6.2018

Madikeri Taluk received 116.65 mm rainfall till the morning of June 11. Virajpet has received 92.90 mm rainfall and Somwarpet 104.12 mm. The District Average is 104.56 mm.

CM agrees to change GTD's Higher Education portfolio

G.T. Devegowda likely to get the post of Mysuru District Minister

Mysuru, June 11 (RK&BCT)- Higher Education Minister G.T. Devegowda will get a different portfolio and as a bonus, he is likely to be appointed as the District In-charge Minister, the mantle which he is likely to take over from the earlier all-powerful District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa during Siddharamaiah regime.

After the initial sulking soon after he was allocated the Higher Education portfolio, the miffed G.T. Devegowda (GTD) remained incommunicado and left his Vijayanagar First Stage residence in city to an undisclosed resort in Kodagu.

Even his followers protested over the allocated portfolio and now to placate him, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy has agreed to change his Higher Education portfolio.

G.T. Devegowda H.D. Kumaraswamy

Last night, GTD met Kumaraswamy at the Infosys Guest House at Hebbal in city where the latter had come to see his son Nikhil Kumaraswamy shooting a movie.

At the dinner meeting, the CM apparently told GTD that he would change his Higher Education portfolio.

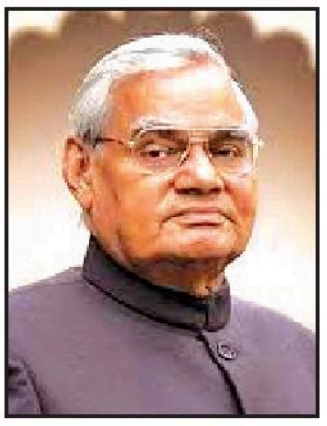
Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, GTD said, "I met CM Kumaraswamy at the dinner table and he told me that he had allocated Higher Education to me as it was a good portfolio and a lot of good work could be done there. He told me that since I am unhappy with the responsibility, he (CM) was ready to make a change," he said.

GTD further said that the CM is likely to appoint him as the Mysuru District Minister. "We discussed that too and I am happy that Kumaraswamy has honoured my sentiments. I am on my way to Bengaluru and will meet JD(S) supremo H.D. Deve Gowda at his Padmanabhanagar residence this evening and seek his blessings," GTD said.

After spending two days in Mysuru, CM Kumaraswamy left to Bengaluru this morning.

Sources said that GTD and the CM were in the same convoy.

Atal Bihari Vajpayee admitted to AIIMS



Atal Bihari Vajpayee

New Delhi, June 11 - Former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee has been admitted to the All India Institute for Medical Sciences (AIIMS) this morning based on doctors' recommendations.

Vajpayee, one of India's tallest Prime Ministers, is 93. Details of his hospitalisation are still sketchy. The BJP says he's been taken to the hospital for a routine check-up. AIIMS director Randeep Guleria is personally keeping a watch on Vajpayee's health.

Vajpayee was the 10th Prime Minister of India and a senior leader of the BJP. He is the first non-Indian National Congress Prime Minister to serve a full five-year term. Vajpayee is currently the oldest living former Indian Prime Minister. He was a Parliamentarian for over four decades.

Vajpayee ruled the country for 13 days in 1996, 13 months in 1998 and for five years from 1999. Vajpayee is a great orator and his speeches are still closely watched. On his birthday on December 25, the BJP-led government celebrates Good Governance Day.

WARD BOUNDARIES: The 65-Member MCC was revamped recently with the authorities delimiting the wards based on population. Although the number of wards had not increased with delimitation, the authorities have brought several areas in the outskirts of the city to MCC limits.

According to MCC officials, boundaries of wards were redrawn in accordance with the 74th Amendment of the Constitution which stipulates change in reservation and altering the contours of wards to ensure even distribution of population.

After delimitation, each of the 65 wards has 13,000 and 15,000 voters. The delimitation exercise has ensured uniformity in the number of residents and voters in each ward. Officials said that they had prepared a sketch of revised boundaries in August last year in the run up to the local bodies election and had sent it to Urban Development Department for approval.

ELECTION OBSERVERS

In order to monitor the election expenditure of candidates, the EC will appoint Poll Expenditure Observers who will submit details of expenditure to the EC through the poll officer. A team of auditors from the Public Accounts Department will verify election expenditure statements.

The EC has also instructed the local authorities to source the stationary required for the elections locally. However, the EC will provide covers, sealing wax, indelible ink, etc.

Out of the 116 local bodies going to polls in September, three are City Corporations, 29 CMCs (City Municipal Councils), 56 Town Municipal Councils (TMC) and 28 Town Panchayats. Apart from the elections to the MCC and 3 CMCs in Mysuru district, polls will also be held for Chamarajanagar and Kollegal CMCs, Mandya CMC, Maddur, Pandavapura and Nagamangala TMCs and Bellur Town Panchayat. As far as Kodagu District is concerned, polls will be held for Kushalnagar, Virajpet and Somwarpet TMCs.

Polling begins in Jayanagar Assembly Constituency

Bengaluru, June 11 (UNI)- Polling began on a brisk note in Jayanagar Assembly constituency in Bengaluru this morning where election was deferred due to the death of BJP candidate and sitting member B.N. Vijaykumar, just a few days before the May 12 elections.

People were seen going to the polling stations in a large numbers early in the day. Jayanagar was once considered as the largest residential layout in Asia. It is mainly inhabited by office-going public.

Congress candidate Sowmya Reddy, daughter of former minister Ramalinga Reddy and BJP candidate Prahlad Babu, brother of Vijayakumar are involved in a direct fight through there in all 19 candidates in the fray, including Ravikrishna Reddy of Lancha-Mukta Forum. JD(S) candidate Kale Gowda has withdrawn from fray and is supporting the Congress candidate.

The counting of votes will take place on June 13 in NMKRV College where the EVMs will be kept after the polling. There are a total 2,03,184 voters in this constituency.

Hanagodu Dam full

Thanks to heavy rain in Virajpet Taluk of Kodagu district, the Lakshmanatheertha River has filled up with water. Heavy rain in Kutta, Brahmagiri ranges, Nagarahole National Park, Balele and Nittoor in Kodagu has increased the water flow. The Hanagodu Dam is about 14 kms from Hunsur. Lakshmanatheertha River is a tributary of River Cauvery and it originates in the Brahmagiri Hills and later joins Cauvery at Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam in Mandya district.

City gears up for counting tomorrow

Pointing out that the voters were provided with ballot papers to exercise their franchise in order of preference 1,2,3 etc., against the names of the candidates, Hemalatha said that all the ballot papers are bundled with 25 in each bundle.

Stating that 14 tables are assigned for the first round of counting of the three Constituencies, the RC said that a candidate who secures 50% of the total valid first preferential votes polled plus one, will be declared winner.

The counting of the second and subsequential preference of votes will be taken up only if no candidate is declared as the winner in the counting of first preferential votes, she said.

Noting that the completion of counting of first preferential votes may take over four hours, Hemalatha said that the counting of second and subsequent preferential votes may go on till late in the night.

She further said that a total of 435 personnel, including 35 officers, 145 Counting Supervisors and Assistants, 60 supporting counting personnel, 50 Group-D employees, 25 other staff and 120 Police personnel will be deputed for the counting process and no counting personnel will be allowed to leave the centre until the entire counting process is completed and the results declared.

The RC further said that apart from the candidate, only one agent of each candidate will be allowed to witness the counting process in one table.

Tight Police security will be provided all around the counting centre to ensure that no untoward incident takes place when the counting goes on, she added.

Minimum Ramzan 'Fitra' fixed at Rs. 65

Hazrath Moulana Mohamed Zaka Ulla Saheb Siddiqui, President, All India Milli Council, Mysore District Unit, has informed that after consultation with Ameer-e-Shariat Karnatak Hazrath Moulana Sagheer Ahmed Khan Saheb Rishadi and other eminent Ulemas, it has been decided to fix Rs. 65 as minimum 'Fitra' for this year's Ramzan.

Moulana Zaka Ulla Saheb has requested all the Muslim brethren to pay their 'Fitra' two to three days early or at least before going to Namaz on Eid so that the poor can also celebrate Eid.

"Ramzan is like a training period for Muslims gifted by Almighty Allah. We do not utter any words that will hurt anyone nor tell lies. We offer prayers all the five times without fail and offer maximum charity in the name of Zakath (2.5 percent of our income) Sadqa and Khairath to the poor," he said.

"We treat everybody with respect and love, spreading communal harmony and brotherhood which is called 'Huququl Ibad.' Allah wants us to even follow the same noble things after Ramzan. After doing all these noble things and after seeing the Moon we will assemble in Eidgah Maidan the next day on Eid to thank the Almighty for giving us the opportunity to do good things, pray for him for our safety and prosperity, development and security of our country," he added.

Power of giving charity during Ramzan

According to ABS Syed Abbas, an entrepreneur known for giving charity, "Rewards and forgiveness of Allah spread during this sacred month. One who realises how small the preparation he has to welcome the Judgement Day later on will be very pleased to welcome Ramzan. One who acknowledges how many sins he has committed will have no other feeling but happiness and joy in welcoming Ramzan."

He said that one of the doors that Allah has opened to His people to gain rewards during Ramzan is through giving charity/ alms. Islam always advises its followers to give plenty of charities, especially during Ramzan.

Abbas said that giving charity is an act of giving something out of kindness, religious duty or generosity and added that it helps to strengthen love, understanding, mutual support and brotherhood between rich and poor.

He said, "Charity has great rewards. That is why the Prophet said charity never reduces one's wealth but increases it. If charity is given during the Holy Month, its reward is combined with the honour of time. It is known that righteous deeds during Ramzan are distinct from those performed in other months."

Abbas said that one who feeds a fasting person will generate greater rewards. Citing an example, Abbas said that if a person gives Rs. 100 as charity during Ramzan, he would be rewarded with Rs. 7,000.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran
Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Feeling good...

In the science of Feng Shui, wind chimes, clocks with metal pendulum, metal bells have a similar effect in moving away stagnation.

The fundamental premise of Feng Shui is the interaction of the five elements, the energy due to the individual element and the interaction of the elements in a space. Although all the elements are of equal importance and great significance, water and fire elements are quite dangerous when they are out of proportion or misaligned. Hence at the grassroot level, achieving a balance in terms of décor is essential in a home. Ancient Chinese analysis of elements and its effect are quite different from the present day adaptation in a place of dwelling. The five elements which are of prime importance in Feng Shui are water, wood, fire, earth and metal. The interaction of these elements and the effect on the occupants is one of the primary analyses of Feng Shui.

Anything out of proportion is not in harmony. Hence size of a room, the décor, colours and placement of furniture are quite important to ensure proper balance and flow of energy. Feng Shui is the art of creating a happy living environment within the home, one that ushers in good energy and feel which is not only beneficial but positive for the occupants.

When implemented precisely, home gets transformed and you could experience a feeling of serenity, peace, happiness ushering in good career prospects, relationship and wealth and simultaneously protecting the home from any kind of loss, sickness or misfortunes.

Activating good Feng Shui involves energising the flow of Chi and generate good luck, which could be wealth, health or harmony. Cures that are used to combat bad Feng Shui require accurate diagnosis of the problem. It could be as simple as using some symbols or gadgets and at times relocating doors or changes of layout. In both the situations it calls for professional analysis and accuracy of placement of remedies.

To transform the energy in your home or office, take stock of what you have in your immediate surroundings. Review your possessions and discard items that no longer hold value for you with the clear intention of releasing the old thoughts, beliefs, and emotions attached to them. By clearing out items, you open the path for new energy to enter your life. In fact, observations are the key to good Feng Shui so one must practice the skill to look around and get to know the 'feel' of the place of dwelling and the immediate surroundings.

If your place of dwelling or work emanates a feel of stagnation, the simplest way to activate flow of energy is by primarily cleaning the space, clearing the clutter and activating good energy. Metal energy is powerful in controlling bad energy and clearing stagnating energy.

In the science of Feng Shui, wind chimes, clocks with metal pendulum, metal bells have a similar effect in moving away stagnation. Wind chimes have a great significance and are a very valuable and powerful Feng Shui cure, yet its use and positioning is quite critical. Suspending wind chimes in a specific sector or corner of the home is a skill to either enhance or counter the energy of the sector. The general recommendation of suspending wind chimes in North, Northwest or West sectors are to activate the elements of these specific sectors.

Nadal claims record-extending French Open title

"It's not even a dream to win here 11 times, because it's impossible to think of something like this." Nadal saluted his 24-year-old opponent, who is the only man to have beaten the Spaniard on clay over the past two seasons.

Paris, June 11 (UNI)- Rafael Nadal beat Austrian seventh seed Dominic Thiem 6-4 6-3 6-2 to claim a record-extending 11th French Open title yesterday. The Spanish world number one took his Roland Garros win-loss record to a jaw-dropping 86-2 as he captured his 17th Grand Slam title.

Nadal's triumph marks the sixth consecutive Grand Slam won by either him or 20-times major champion Roger Federer. The muscular Spaniard had won all 10 of his previous Roland Garros finals and although Thiem was the only man to have beaten him on clay over the past two seasons, the Austrian never threatened the clay court master yesterday.

In claiming a 17th Grand Slam title, Nadal matched Margaret Court's record of titles at a single major — hers all coming at the Australian Open. There is nothing to suggest Nadal's domination on the Parisian dirt will end any time soon.

Thiem, who was trying to become only the second Austrian Grand Slam champion after Tomas Muster's 1995 Paris triumph, played his part in the two-hour 42 minute tussle but was unable to sustain the high-octane tennis needed to ruffle Nadal. He said it was beyond a dream to win his 11th Roland Garros title after defeating Austrian Dominic Thiem. "It's amazing now, I can't describe my feelings," Nadal told the crowd on Philippe Chatrier Court moments after capturing his 17th Grand Slam trophy.

"It's not even a dream to win here 11 times, because it's impossible to think of something like this." Nadal saluted his 24-year-old opponent, who is the only man to have beaten the Spaniard on clay over the past two seasons.

"He's very aggressive, with big shots," Nadal said in halting French before switching to English. "I want to say well played to Dominic. He played a great two weeks. He's a good friend, one of these players that the tour needs. I am sure you'll win here in the next couple of years."

The emotional Spaniard wiped away tears as he held on to the Coupe de Mousquetaires. "Many thanks," he told the crowd. "I hope to see you again next year."

Football-Inter-continental Cup

India beat Kenya

Mumbai, June 11- Inspirational Indian captain Sunil Chhetri scored a brace to put himself on par with Lionel Messi and lead the home side to Inter-continental Cup title triumph with a 2-0 win over Kenya in the summit clash here on Sunday.

Playing in his 102nd international match, Chhetri struck in the eighth and 29th minutes to hand a dominant India the trophy to the wild celebration of the home fans at the Mumbai Football Arena here.

The 33-year-old Chhetri's double strike capped a brilliant tournament which saw him score eight out of India's 11 goals and put him on par with Argentine superstar Messi with 64 strikes for the country to be the joint second highest international goal scorer among active players.

Chhetri gave India the lead off a set-piece, assisted by Anirudh Thapa. Kenyan defender Bernard Oginga gave away a silly free-kick to India for a high-boot on Chhetri after throw in by Pritam Kotal. The 20-year-old Thapa took the free-kick just outside the box and Chhetri connected the ball into the left-corner of the net. The Indian captain doubled the lead just before the half-hour mark.

Anas Edathodika lofted the ball to Chhetri who controlled the ball nicely on his chest between Kenyan defenders Jockins Atudo and Micheal Kibwage before firing in a low left-footer from inside the box which gave absolutely no chance to keeper Patrick Matasi.

14-year-old Bengaluru lad youngest racer in Formula LGB 1300

Chennai, June 11 (UNI)- Young Tijil Rao will make a heroic debut in the MRF MMSC FMSCI Indian National Racing Championship to be held here from June 22 to 24, having overcome a rare handicap that had made even the simple act of walking extremely excruciating, if not impossible, for him.

Born with clubfoot, a condition in which one's feet were rotated inwards, Tijil had to undergo two surgeries in each of his legs, first when he was just three-months-old and then again as a four-year-old to assume a normal life.

That, however, did not deter him from pursuing his passion for racing. Tijil now has the distinction of being one of the youngest racers on the Formula LGB 1300 Grid, which was part of the MRF Indian National Racing Championship 2018.

Tijil Rao

At 14, the Bengaluru boy, studying in Class X at the Mirambika School for New Age, will be racing for Momentum Motorsports. "We are delighted to have Tijil Rao in our Formula LGB 1300 driver line up", Rasheed Khan, Momentum Motorsport's team Principal, said.

"He has shown promising speed in his pre-season testing with us, and we believe that he can consistently score points through the season," he added.

Tijil had a solid 2017, competing in the National Rotax Karting Championship and honing his driving. He underwent pre-season testing with Momentum School of Advance Racing in April and May and impressed enough to bag a seat.

"I'm happy to be part of the championship-winning Momentum Motorsport team. They managed to get the best out of me during testing and I am now confident of displaying my skills," Tijil Rao said.

Public demand online system for property tax payment

Mysuru, June 11 (SPN&BCT)- A meeting of the public with revenue officials of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) was held last evening at the office of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP). Assistant Revenue officers Kumara Swamy, Arasu Kumari and Prasad attended the meeting and answered the questions that were raised by the citizens.

At the meeting, the MCC officials clarified on issues raised by apartment owners and penalty for not having Completion Report (CR) and violating the building by-laws. According to Bhamy V. Shenoy of MGP, the MCC had wrongly interpreted that penalty to be imposed was equal to the taxes to be paid and only when clarification was sought from Urban Development Ministry, it was clarified that any building (commercial or residential) has to pay as penalty two times the tax to be paid.

Apartment owners have to pay not only for the plinth area of their apartment, but also for any common built up area (but excluding vacant land which may be used for parking), he said.

Participants wanted clarity on the indiscriminate collection of tax on common areas apart from the carpet area of apartments, to which Revenue Officer Prasanna replied that the issue has come to the notice of the higher officials and such a provision is not prescribed in the rule book. There is no need to pay the same and such additional payments that are already collected will be adjusted in the future payment of taxes, he said. Prasanna also assured that the public will be informed about the same through an official notification soon.

The meeting was a platform for the public to highlight the failure of MCC to modernise and digitise property tax collection.

Participants wanted speedy creation of an online system of tax payment.

Though many services of the MCC have been modernised and are now available online, payment of property tax continues to be archaic in its present form.

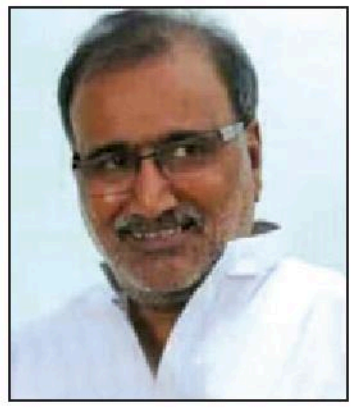
Bhamy Shenoy told the meeting that when he was the honorary adviser to the Mysuru City Corporation in 1989, he had insisted on computerisation of property tax system but the system has not been implemented and has remained primitive even in 2018, giving a lot of scope for human errors.

When a question was asked if the MCC had attempted to estimate the potential revenues that can be collected from property tax and if there was any efficient system, there was no response from the officers.

Questions were also raised on beggary, and library cess. Even here, the officials did not have ready response. It became evident that more than Rs. 10 crore collected in the form of library cess during the last few years has not been handed over to the library authorities.

MGP office-bearers and members S. Shobana, R. Chandraprakash and others were present at the meeting.

I am satisfied with my portfolio: Animal Husbandry Minister



Venkat Rao Nadagouda

Mysuru, June 11- Maintaining that he was satisfied with the portfolio allotted to him, Animal Husbandry Minister Venkat Rao Nadagouda has said that he would do justice to his Ministry and work to the expectations of the people.

Speaking to press persons here yesterday, Nadagouda who was on his first visit to the city after becoming a Minister in the H.D. Kumaraswamy led Congress-JD(S) coalition Government, said that he was not aware of the portfolio that he would get.

"I am satisfied with the portfolio I have got and will call a meeting of department officials to discuss ways to help the farming community," said Nadagouda, who was elected on a JD(S) ticket from Sindhanur Assembly segment in Raichur district.

The Minister later left along with his family members to Chamundi Hill and offered prayers at Chamundeshwari temple.

BJP leader Eshwarappa celebrates 70th birthday by visiting Nanjangud, Chamundeshwari temples

Mysuru, June 11(MTY&DM)- Senior BJP leader and Shivamogga MLA K.S. Eshwarappa celebrated his 70th birthday by performing special puja at Srikanteshwaraswamy temple in the temple town of Nanjangud in the district yesterday.

Eshwarappa, who had arrived along with his family members at Nanjangud on Saturday, stayed overnight in the town for celebrating the special occasion.

Eshwarappa, who first visited Dattatreya temple in the town, performed 'Chandika Yaaga' in the temples following which he visited Lord Srikanteshwaraswamy temple and offered prayers to the deity.

Thereafter, Eshwarappa, continuing his temple run to mark his 70th birthday, visited Chamundeshwari temple atop Chamundi Hill in Mysuru and had darshan of the Goddess.

Even as Eshwarappa arrived at Chamundi Hill, thousands of supporters from his home town of Shivamogga, who came to the city in over 70 buses, made a beeline to Chamundi Hill. As all the buses came together, there was traffic jam on the road leading to the hill temple (see pic).

Eshwarappa also cut a cake at the foot of Chamundi Hill in the presence of his supporters and members of the public.

While some of his supporters garlanded him, a few others presented him a sword, that resembled the sword of martyred freedom fighter Sangolli Rayanna. City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, leaders Jogi Manju, Kurubarahalli Ramesh and others were present.

Speaking to press persons atop Chamundi Hill after having darshan of the deity, Eshwarappa claimed that many Congress MLAs were in touch with him.

Accusing the Congress and JD(S) of entering into an unholy alliance, Eshwarappa maintained that the coalition Government would not last long and would fall under its own weight.

Lashing out at the Congress for its abject surrender to the JD(S), stating that many Congress legislators were unhappy with the alliance, Eshwarappa said that the Congressmen were themselves engaged in making Karnataka Congress-free and it was only a matter of time that the coalition Government collapsed.

WORD OF THE DAY

Pannier

Pronunciation: /ˈpæniər/

Meaning: A pannier is a basket, bag, box, or similar container, carried in pairs either slung over the back of a beast of burden, or attached to the sides of a bicycle or motorcycle.

Origin: The term derives from a Middle English borrowing of the Old French panier, meaning 'bread basket'. Traditional panniers for animal transport are typically made of canvas, leather, or wicker. Modern panniers may be rectangular boxes of hard-sided plastic. Panniers are loaded in such a manner as to distribute weight evenly on either side of the animal. For horse packing, and when carrying particularly heavy loads on other animals they are supported by a pack saddle to distribute weight more evenly across the back of the animal. In some cases, additional items are placed on the back of the animal, between the panniers. There are many styles of bicycle panniers. Touring panniers are usually sold in pairs, intended to hold enough equipment for self-sustained tours over days or weeks. The most common setup is to use a pair of smaller panniers (10 to 15 litres each) mounted on a low rider and a pair of larger ones on the rear carrier (20 to 30 litres each).

THE ODD WORD

Deasil

Clockwise or in the direction of the sun's course.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Back to the drawing board

Meaning: When an attempt fails and it's time to start all over.

Origin: This term has been used since WWII as a jocular acceptance that a design has failed and that a new one is needed. It gained common currency quite quickly and began appearing in US newspapers by 1947, as here in the Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Washington, December 1947: "Grid injuries for the season now closing suggest anew that nature get back to the drawing board, as the human knee is not only nothing to look at but also a piece of bum engineering." It was well-enough known by 1966 for it to be used as a title for an episode in the 'Get Smart' TV series, and has also been used as the title of several books. A drawing board is, of course, an architect's or draughtsman's table, used for the preparation of designs or blueprints. The phrase originated as the caption to a cartoon produced by Peter Arno (Curtis Arnoux Peters, Jr.), for the New Yorker magazine, in 1941. The cartoon shows various military men and ground crew racing toward a crashed plane, and a designer, with a roll of plans under his arm, walking away saying, "Well, back to the old drawing board".

QUOTE BOX

People go into cartooning because they're shy and they're angry. That's when you're sitting in the back of a classroom drawing the teacher.
